

MASSES HERE AT THE CHURCH

Unfortunately Fr David is having to self-isolate and we are advised by the Diocese not to invite supply priests, so there will be no Mass held at the Church (online or to the public) this weekend. The Church will also be closed for private prayer over this weekend. Next week the church will be open for private prayer on Monday, Thursday and Friday morning and from Saturday 16th January we hope the usual weekend and weekday mass times will resume.

Do remember that there are plenty of Masses being offered online if you wish to participate, both locally, and further afield, or you may wish to go in person in which case please check websites for booking systems and times etc., This weekend is the Baptism of the Lord which officially brings to an end the season of Christmas.
